TOM HICKMAN TOLD HE MUST RESIGN

HEAD OF TEXAS
RANGERS ORDERED
TO QUIT BY DEC. 1CAUSE OF SUSPENSION AND SUBSEQUENT DISMISSAL
STILL UNANNOUNCED

AUSTIN, Nov. 11.—(P)—L. G. Phares, acting director of the department of public safety, said the public safety commission had given Senior Ranger Captain Tom R. Hickman until Dec. 1 to resign.

Phares said "on advice and consent of the commission," he previously had suspended Hickman "early last week." The commission met Thursday, he said, "and orally told him they would carry him on the payroll until Dec. 1, but they expected his resignation in the meantime."

The acting director was uncertain if commission's subsequent action countermanded his earlier suspension of Hickman.

Phares said reasons for the commission's decision should be announced by the commission.

"I didn't hire him," Phares said. "I didn't promote him, and I didn't fire him."

Phares said Hickman, senior ranger captain and head of that division, had been given an opportunity by the commission to resign.

"They have given him until the first," he said, presumably Dec. 1.

Phares ascribed the commission's action to its general policy of announcing organization appointments and maximum efficiency during a six-month probation.

Cuero Staged Its Annual Round-Up
Of Turkeys Today

CUERO, Texas, Nov. 11.—(P)—Growers in this prolific turkey-raising center were ready to climb into ramshackle automobiles and astride horses today for the annual turkey round-up.

After being yard-fed, thousands of the birds were turned loose into pasture lands, where food was abundant. Their "running wild" also is said to make them more palatable to eastern tastes.

The rounding up of the birds for the nation's Thanksgiving dinner, and other festive occasions, is expected by the growers to bring in $500,000 in this section alone. Close to thirty carloads of dressed birds will be ready to leave the state shortly, and this does not count, of course, the many sold in the state and those shipped "on the hoof."

MT. RANIER, Md., Nov. 11.—(P)—Two men—one her fiance and the other a former suitor—were held by police for questioning today as they pressed their investigation of the murder of a 27-year-old Columbia woman.

Clifford Hampton, 30, said by a judge he had kept company with Loring about five months ago, was arrested in Washington last night and taken to the Hyattsville jail.

Already in jail was Richard Teard, 29-year-old hospital attendant, to whom the girl was to have been married last Wednesday, two days after she disappeared from her home here. He was arrested Saturday night.

The body of the bride-elect was found Saturday on lonely Saddleback ridge, about five blocks from the Loring home. She had been beaten, bitten and

Royal Air Force
Bombers on Peace
Mission Monday

SINGAPORE, Straits Settlements, Nov. 11.—(P)—Another fleet of Royal Air Force bombers roared into the air today, resuming with renewed vigor the search for Sir Charles Kingsford-Smith, missing three days on a projected England-Australia flight.

The pilots carried instructions to skirt low over every island and the coast line of the Western Malay Peninsula, as well as a wide strip of the Bay of Bengal between Rangoon, South Burma, and Victoria Point.

C. James Melrose, who last saw the monoplane in which Kingsford-Smith and his copilot, Tom Pethybridge, were flying over the Bay of Bengal early Friday, flew again to the spot where he saw the pilots bucking a raging monsoon.

Melrose expressed belief that Kingsford-Smith might have glided to an uninhabited island and made a landing in moonlight.

ON AUTO-LOAD OF NON-
UNION MEN CHARGED

HOUSTON, Nov. 11.—(P)—A 17-year-old John Reagan high school student was beaten today in the newest flare-up of violence on Houston's strike-torn waterfront.

The youth, Fred Buckner, suffered a badly lacerated mouth when struck by one of several men who overtook his automobile near the ship channel.

Young Buckner told Detective Captain George Peyton that he had just taken his cousin, Pete Campbell, to work at dock 15, where Campbell is employed as a checker.

Three negroes were beaten yesterday.

HOUSTON, Nov. 11.—(P)—Police kept a close watch on the waterfront today in an effort to prevent further outbreaks of violence in the longshoremen's strike which last week took two lives in two days.

They hunted three men who beat up a non-union negro longshoreman last night, breaking his jaw. The negro said the men beat him until he promised to stop working on the docks.

Officers also continued their investigation of a mysterious shotgun fire directed against the automobile loaded with non-union workmen as it was leaving the docks Saturday night.

Hearings were set for Friday on

The hardest snow in several years pounded the plains section around Lubbock today as winter slid into Texas on an overnight temperature toboggan.

A biting north wind swept snowflakes over the plains while sleet fell in other sections. Borger reported the low reading of 22.5 degrees.

Sleet gave way to swirling snow at Lubbock as the thermometer showed a drop of from 65 degrees yesterday to 25 today. The minimum at Abilene was 30 degrees, as compared with yesterday's high of 75.

The coldest weather of the season prevailed this morning at many points, Borger reporting a low reading of 22.5 degrees. The minimum there yesterday was 28. Sleet fell this morning at Lubbock and the temperature sagged from 65 yesterday to 25 this morning. The minimum at Abilene was 30 degrees, as compared with yesterday's high of 75.

At Wichita Falls the minimum was 30. Yesterday's maximum was 68. Misty rain and a brisk northwesterly wind were reported in that section. No damage had been done

ETHIOPIAN RAILWAYINVADING FORCES REPORT-
ED TO HAVE CROSSED MORE THAN HALF OF DESERT

By The Associated Press.
Italy's southern army, under the command of General Rudolfo Graziani, pushed menacingly today toward Ethiopia's "life line"—the railroad from Addis Ababa to Djibouti, French Somaliland seaport.

Dispatches to Rome said Graziani's forces occupied Easa Baneh in a week-end drive and held Daggah Bur with advance patrols.

In occupying Easa Baneh, the Italians have crossed more than half the desert region lying between Italian Somaliland and the provincial capital of Harrar.

Easa Baneh is 100 miles from Jijiga and less than 150 miles from the railroad. Defending the railroad and Harrar is a vast concentration of Haile Selassie's warriors about Jijiga.

Daggah Bur, reported held by the advance patrols, is 30 miles on toward Jijiga.

An unconfirmed Italian press dispatch from Djibouti said Ras Nassibu, one of Emperor Haile

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(P)—President Roosevelt revealed today that he and Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada "have reached a definite agreement which will eliminate (trade) restrictions, and thus work to the advantage" of both countries.

Commemorating Armistice Day at the tomb of the unknown soldier, he pledged that America "will ever seek the ways of peace" but "must and will protect herself."

He cited trade barriers as causes of international friction, and cited discussions with the Canadian Prime Minister as an example of neighborliness. Details of their agreement were not given.

"Under no circumstances," the President said of American policy, "will this policy of self protection

ON GLAD OCCASION

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(P)—A lone unnamed soldier lying in his stony crypt on a peaceful autumn-brightened Virginia hillside received today the honor and homage paid to those who died in the nation's fiercest foreign war.

Quietly lay his body in a casket whose top was crowded with honor medals of the nations of the world while President Roosevelt, not far off, joined in a prayer that this unknown soldier and his comrades had not fought in vain for the prolonged peace the nation coveted.

Before his tomb in Arlington, America's soldier shrine, were assembled the dignitaries of government, statesmen who held to guide the destinies of world powers, soldiers in neat uniforms, and plain folk from every walk of life.

Yet not in deepest sorrow did countless thousands assemble amid Arlington's rows of crosses over the soldier and sailor dead. There was more of humble fellowship, and pride that the unnamed dead rests as a constant symbol of a willingness of Americans everywhere to die that liberty and justice and right may live.

From early morning into the shadows of the afternoon, delegations of patriotic organizations streamed up to the gleaming marble monument to the unknown soldier. And by ones and twos, saddened mothers and fathers, and the graves of loved ones in the groves and rolling hills overlooking the quiet Potomac.

Aged Fairfield
Man Found Dead
On Highway There

The mangled body of Jeff Richards, 75-year-old restaurant operator on highway 75 at Fairfield, was reported to have left Sunday morning on highway 7, apparently the victim of a hit-and-run driver.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock Monday with interment at Lake Chapel cemetery.

Richards, a native of Fairfield, was reported to have left his place of business shortly before one-thirty Sunday morning, and the accident was believed to have happened a few minutes later. His left leg was severed at the ankle, his right hip was broken, and his head crushed.

The body was found by Joe Ervin, negro.

Fairfield officers are investigating.

Richards was survived by one son, Holt Richards, a partner in the restaurant; two daughters, Mrs. Jessamine Richards, and Mrs. Ethel Cockrell of Young.

Richards lived a short distance from Highway 75 on highway 7.

AS STARS IN FULL LENGTH MOVIE

TORONTO, Nov. 11.—(P)—Those five famous sisters, the Dionne quintuplets, were signed today at the age of 17 months to star in a full-length movie.

David A. Croll, Ontario minister of welfare and special guardian to the girls, announced his approval of a contract between Twentieth Century-Fox films and the guardians of the quintuplets for the babies to play in picture called "The Country Doctor."

The film, it was announced, will be based to some extent on the life of Dr. A. R. DaFoe, the little grey-haired doctor who attended the quintuplets at birth.

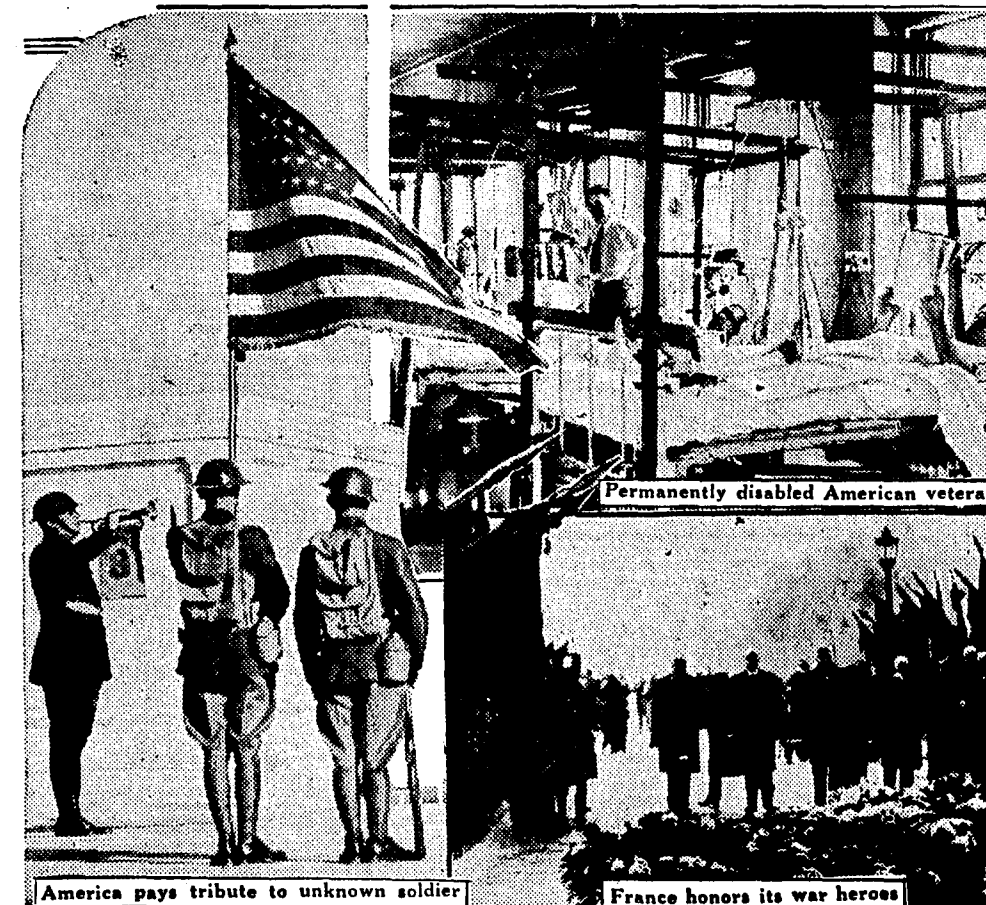

Whether Dr. DaFoe would act was not known, but unofficial information was that his work could be confined to supervising any scenes in which his charges appeared.

Croll did not indicate the salaries of the quintuplets.

He said, however, that the terms were "so attractive that,

ARMISTICE BRINGS NO PEACE TO THESE VICTIMS

Armistice Day, 1935, brings no occasion for rejoicing to the thousands of permanently disabled veterans who were among the 28,757,767 killed or wounded in the World War. Nor can the patriotic addresses and military honors accorded the war dead of the world bring happiness to the hearts of those whose relatives were among the 8,538,315 who died in the World War.

(By The Associated Press.)
In martial atmosphere, the world today celebrated the seventeenth anniversary of the end of the last world war.

Fascists continued their push deep into Ethiopia and Premier Mussolini told the Italians their armies were ready to defend their "interests in Europe, Africa or anywhere."

The situation arising from the unsolved slaying of a Japanese marine, Hideo Nakayama, which Japanese authorities said was "serious," was considered to be increasingly threatening by the outbreak of new terrorism.

Hundreds of persons saw the Chinese break the window of the store, at one of Shanghai's busiest street corners, but the perpetrators escaped later scattering handbills emblazoned with the characters: "War on Japan to Save China!" The incident happened Nov. 13.

Between eight hundred and a thousand messengers of the Baptist Missionary Association of Texas are expected to attend the annual convention at the First Baptist Church, here starting Tuesday, Nov. 12, and continuing each day through Friday, Nov. 15. The organization is composed of 620 churches in Texas.

Simultaneously with the opening of the session at the First Baptist Church, the State Woman's Missionary Union will open at the Eleventh Avenue Baptist church, and Mrs. A. A. Roberts of Ennis, president, will preside. This program will feature reports and talks on home and foreign missions.

Rev. J. M. Harper, of Dallas, president, will call the opening of the Wednesday morning meeting at 10 o'clock, and after the devotional the association will be organized by the election of a president, two vice-presidents and

On The Front:

General Rudolfo Graziani's southern Italian army menaced the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad in an offensive against Jijiga and Harrar. The week-end advance put the fascist invaders 100 miles from Jijiga and 150 miles from the railroad.

On the northern front, some 200,000 warriors were massing under Ras Seyoum in the mountains south of Makale to make a stand against the Mussolini legions.

Paris—Private reports said 11 Duce, late in October, proposed a Mediterranean naval agreement to Great Britain. His efforts, so far, have been unavailing.

Rome—While the rest of Europe observed Armistice Day, Mussolini reviewed his fascist legions and proclaimed the readiness of his troops to defend "Italy's interests in Europe, Africa or anywhere."

HONDO, N. M., Nov. 11.—(P)—Southwestern post office spread a dragnet today for a young man, who was being sought for questioning in connection with a triple killing of the Willard Shaffer family.

Sheriff A. S. McCamant said the bodies of Shaffer, his wife, and his 10-year-old son were found in a ranch house.

The sheriff said robbery apparently motivated the slaying, because the Shaffer car, a light 1935 coach (Chevrolet) and a large calibre rifle were missing.

Search was begun immediately after the bodies were found. The sheriff said he had not learned, reported discovering the bodies when he went to the ranch home for a Sunday visit.

The bodies of Shaffer, 40-year-old veteran, and his 30-year-old wife were found lying between the house and a milking shed, the sheriff said. They had been shot. The body of their son, Tommie, 9, who friend said he been ill, was found in his bed, his skull apparently crushed by a hatchet.

BALLOON REACHES
HEIGHT OF 74,000
FEET ON MONDAYSTRATOSPHERE FLIGHT RE-PORTED TO HAVE SET NEW WORLD'S RECORD

RAPID CITY, S. D.—(P)—After reaching an unofficial world record altitude computed by the ground crew at 74,000 feet, slightly over 14 miles, the stratosphere fliers of the balloon "Explorer II" radioed at 1:05 p. m. (C.S.T.) today, "we're starting down now."

When this report was made the two-man expedition into the air, composed of Capt. Orvil Anderson and Capt. Albert W. Stevens, in the "Explorer II" had been up five hours and five minutes.

The lofty level of 74,000 feet—34,000 feet out in the stratosphere—was the balloonists' fondest goal. It authenticated from their instruments it will mean a world altitude record far beyond that unofficially credited to three Russian balloonists who last year soared to 72,176 feet.

The Russians were killed when their balloon collapsed.

"It will take about three hours to get down," Capt. Stevens told his ground crew by radio. "We're going to try to come down very slowly."

The balloon was then over the vicinity of Valentine, Neb. Officials believed the landing would be made somewhat southeast of Valentine.

"Explorer II" had traveled about 160 miles southeast of the natural bowl here from which they took off at sunrise.

As they began the return trip from their perch in space, Stevens and Anderson, both veteran army fliers, first dropped some of the scientific apparatus jammed into their 8-foot metal gondola.

At 1:20 Capt. Stevens radioed his ground staff for some aerial directions.

MORNING GLORIES WILL BE PLANTED ALONG HIGHWAYS

Navarro county will co-operate in a state-wide movement for the planting of morning glories along all Texas highways in 1936 according to Mrs. J. M. Tullis, county beautification chairman.

The movement was inaugurated by the state highway department under the direction of J. L. Gubbels, landscape architect, and the blue hues of the vines are especially desired.

Mrs. Tullis is requesting that Navarro county residents in all parts of the county preserve all seed from their vines, and to forward all in excess of next year's planting requirements to her for distribution to those sections of the county where there are not sufficient seed. If there remains any excess after Navarro county's needs are fulfilled the surplus will be donated to some other county according to the chairman.

ANOTHER LATERAL ROAD IMPROVEMENT PROJECT APPROVED

Approval of another lateral road WPA project for Navarro county was reported Monday in an advisory session of the state headquarters, and the work was identified by local officials as a three and a half mile section of gravelled road used by school busses from Emu house toward the Cunningham community.

According to the approval figures, the federal cost will be $9,622 and the sponsors' contribution $1,600, and $11,222 will be used. No starting date has been assigned. It was a road graveling project.

Local officials stated that work on several projects is being delayed by the securing of dump trucks and teams. Owners of teams and trucks are urged to contact Clyde Kimes, superintendent, on the Lake Elbert repair project, or Ray Morgan, WRS director in the basement of the postoffice and secure the necessary information concerning the hiring of trucks.

CASING BEING RUN IN WILDCAT TEST IN LIMESTONE COUNTY

MEKIA, Nov. 9.—(Spl.)—Three thousand feet of 53-1/2 inch casing was being run on the Johnson Crawford No. 1, Mary Ward, wildcat oil test south of Cedar creek, west of the Navasota river in Limestone county, Friday.

When attempts at a core were made and failed, operators recovered about 30 barrels of oil which flowed into the flush pipe. Instead of a further core effort, it was decided to set pipe, and Friday morning trucks went out with 3,000 feet of new pipe for the test.

The third and fourth may be the Coleman, oil operators said, it is below the Woodbine.

The bottom of the hole is lower than the promising Vol Delong test made by Crawford last year, although it is only a short distance from that test.

A core had been lost and an effort was made to take another preparatory to setting a separator when the oil show was encountered through the drill stem.

The funeral arrangements were made by the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home.

ARMISTICE DAY

service started shortly before the hour of 11 a. m. at which, 177 years before, the rumbling of guns of the world war suddenly stopped their rain of death.

To the President's words were added those of Ray Murphy, national commander of the American Legion, which was in charge of the ceremonies, the words of Mrs. Ada Muckelstone, national president of the Legion auxiliary, and those of the Reverend Thomas A. Kennedy, national chaplain.

The sweet, tearful notes of "taps" floated out over bare, bowed heads. Muted, blended refrains from the navy band echoed through the hushed pillars of the amphitheatre and up to the words of Lincoln, and deeply into its rim:

"We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain. We are slipping toward its twilight, a quiet crypt in the national cathedral, far across the city from Arlington, was to be resounded once more to the hymn with which Woodrow Wilson, wartime president, was laid to rest there.

BELIEF THAT IT IS POSSIBLE TO COMMUNICATE WITH DEAD IS COSTING TWC DEAN HER PLACE

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9.—(P)—Mrs. Enid Smith will resign as dean of women at Texas Wesleyan College next week because of her asserted belief "that it is possible to communicate with the dead."

"I have conducted experiments myself and know that it is possible," she said, adding a number of students had told her they would leave the college in protest against her requested resignation.

"We can't demand that our faculty members be Methodists," said President Tom W. Brabham. "But we do feel that their views should conform to the broad fundamentals of the Methodist church. Belief that it is possible to communicate with the dead does not coincide with those fundamental principles."

"We asked Mrs. Smith about reports she told a student group she communicated with her dead brother through the medium of her brother," President Brabham said, "and she said God radiated through her. I don't know exactly what she meant."

Mrs. Smith said she was

"simply a seeker after truth" and that she had "the broad views of any well educated and widely traveled person with regard to spiritualism and evolution."

"I count it an honor, in a way," she said, "that they have asked me to leave. I feel that I am a prophet far ahead of today's bigotry and ignorance."

Mrs. Smith came to the college in September from South Tamworth, N. H. She holds A. B. and A. M. degrees from the University of Southern California, a Ph. D. degree from Columbia University and a diploma from the Emerson College of Oratory. A widow, she has two sons, one a junior in Columbia and the other a sophomore in a Methodist boys' school in New Jersey. She has done special work in the universities of Chicago and Hawaii, taught in the Springfield Normal School at Springfield, Mass. held a position as instructor in English, music and art in a British India training school and taught science in McKinley high school in Hawaii.

strangled with a piece of wrapping cord.

Dr. Oscar Lavine, who performed the autopsy, advanced the theory that a woman was involved in the murder—that a woman, perhaps held and bit Miss Loring while a man beat and strangled her.

A number of clues were found, including a piece of crumpled note paper bearing three bloody fingerprints, a part of a man's shirt sleeve, a few wisps of brown wavy hair found in the girl's hand and a man's glove.

Dr. Lavine theorized that Miss Loring went to the wooded section where she met her death at the hands of a person or persons she knew well.

ODD FELLOWS SWAMP PURDON DRAGONS IN SATURDAY'S GAME

By WILSON CAMPBELL.

Head Coach Worth Bishop sent his high-stepping Odd Fellows Lynx for their first victory and first game under him by defeating the Purdon Dragons with the high score of 57-7 in Purdon Saturday afternoon. Coach Scott Boze resigned leaving the leadership to Worth Bishop, ex-assistant coach.

The first half got off to a slow start with Purdon in the first period making a drive and a marker for the first score of the game and also converting.

The second marker came in the second period when Purdon punted from behind their goal line to the 48 with Miller returning to the 45. A drive then started with Webb going over from the 5-yard line. Both teams battled to a standstill for the rest of the period, ending with the score 7-6 for Purdon.

The second half was off to a good start when R. Miller of the Odd Fellows intercepted a pass on his 35 and returned it to the 5-yard line. Webb carried it over for the third touchdown of the game. The forward pass for the extra point was missed. Harwell covered a punt on the 20-yard line to pave the way for the big bruising fullback, Webb, to go over for a touchdown and send the score to a 19-7 result in favor of the Lynx.

R. Miller again intercepted a pass on the Dragons 35-yard line and returned it to the 5-yard line. The Lynx drew a penalty of 15 yards for clipping, but Captain Webb carried it over for another marker. The forward pass Miller to Harwell was good for the extra point. Webb carried the ball over for a touchdown in the first few minutes of the last quarter from the 14-yard mark after a 60-yard drive. A recovered fumbled by Box with a pass, R. Miller to Knight, was good for another marker.

Knight kicked off to Purdon with Purdon returning to the 30-yard line, but it was all in vain because on the 15-yard line R. Miller got away for a touchdown. Webb's placement was good.

Another kickoff netted the same results with Harwell intercepting a pass on the 35-yard line and going over for a touchdown. Webb fumbled on try for extra point. Box and Owens were the defensive stars and Miller and Webb were offensive.

Alleged Improved Sharecropper Life Held Propaganda

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 11.—(P)—There's no chicken and dumplings for the Arkansas sharecropper, Harry Malcom, deputy state labor commissioner, said today.

The federal farm administration's report of improved conditions among sharecroppers, he asserted, "is propaganda, pure and simple." He added:

"The report of the agricultural adjustment administration that the Sharecropper is eating chicken and dumplings, fresh pork and beef is totally unfounded. These people are so poverty stricken at this time that they cannot have 'sow belly' much less chicken or pork.

"Salt meat, which used to be a big item of food with the plantation workers, now sells for 80 cents a pound and is beyond their reach."

Actually, he said, the Arkansas sharecroppers "are living on turnip greens and other garden truck and some of them haven't tasted chicken, pork or beef in a year."

POLITICS AND ECONOMICS.

An individualistic citizen, answering the statement of an economist, that the state "should perform a larger public service to its citizens," says:
"Now, I don't understand what economic help a political state can give its citizens other than getting off their backs and letting them alone in their productive capacity. A state can, and does, give political help to its citizens, through legislative enactments which permit those citizens to appropriate without giving any wealth or service in return, the property of other citizens. From the political activity of the state all our economic distress arises."

This is a pretty broad statement. The matter can hardly be so simple. Government, whether federal, state or local, has been getting its hand more and more into business affairs, as everybody knows; but business also has been going to government more and more for all sorts of help when it gets into trouble.
Neither can exist without the other. What is wanted is merely a proper balance, and that's what most of the argument is about.

STARS OUT OF PLACE.

The Big Dipper, otherwise known as Ursa Major (Great Bear) and Charles' Wagon (Charlemagne's Wagon), is slowly getting bent out of shape. In 50,000 years, says Sidney W. McCuskey of the Harvard Observatory, it will be unrecognizable.
We can stand it. But the fact is interesting, because the Dipper is merely doing what nearly all the other constellations are doing. The "fixed stars" are all moving, just like our own parent star the Sun. They move in various directions, astronomers say, and besides, the whole galaxy that we call the Milky Way, of which we are a part, is whirling like a pinwheel, so that relative positions are continually changing. Even the North Star itself shifts. In a few hundred or thousand years the changes become obvious.
This fact, only proved in the last half-century, may account for the descriptive names of many constellations, especially signs of the zodiac, which seem to have no connection with their appearance. At the time the names were applied by Arabian or Chaldean astronomers thousands of years ago, the present formless star groups probably suggested the names given them, as definitely as the seven bright stars of Ursa Major suggest Big Dipper to us now.

FARM, FACTORY, HOME

The farmers have voted more than five to one for crop control and sustained prices, with the government—meaning all of us—paying for limiting their production to the capacity of the market.
The manufacturers, who have long practiced a similar control of output and prices, with government aid in the form of export tariffs, are indignant about the farm policy but probably can't do much about it.
So the farmers and the manufacturers both have their effective tariffs or bounties, the former class visibly and the latter invisibly. And consumers, though grumbling, may conclude that both are necessary evils that must be accepted.

JUST FOLKS

HOW IT HAPPENS.
"I wonder how it happens," she remarked to me one day. "That some find happiness at home and others drift away?"
And I thought about our childhood and the joys we used to know.
In our sitting rooms and parlors in the days of long ago.
Then I said: "It doesn't happen! It's deliberately planned! It's the labor of a lifetime, if we only understand."
"Oh, the mother appeared no trouble that would touch the home with grace.
Or add a little beauty to our humble dwelling place.
All that went to make it pleasant long she labored to provide.
And the glory of her purpose was to keep us satisfied.
She wanted us to love it and to use it and be glad.
And to keep our homelife cheerful was the only thought she had."
"So it didn't merely happen that we never came to see
Any spot of greater freedom where we felt we'd rather be.
Though at times we must have tried her as we raced the rooms about.
For the sake of peace and quiet we were never ordered out.
Though she never told her secret, 'twas by love those fires were fanned.
And that happy home we cherished was deliberately planned."
"Oh, you cannot drift to beauty or find happiness by chance.
The charm of home's something to be thought of in advance.
It's not merely to be wished for; it's the labor of the years.
It is neither luck nor fortune; so where happiness appears.
It hasn't merely happened. Homes that long united stand.
By the fathers and the mothers are deliberately planned."

IDLE MONEY AND IDLE MEN.

The basic reason for the bull activity in the stock market lately, financial writers say, "lies in vast amount of money seeking employment."
It is a good thing to have securities marked up in this way, by successive purchase at higher prices, if the movement does not go too fast and too far. Not that it really creates any more wealth. Broadly speaking, from the viewpoint of society in general, it is just bookkeeping. But it gives the sellers of the stock more money and the buyers more credit and millions of other people more hope, and so creates a better public state of mind.
The thing that really counts, though, that gets down to rock-bottom reality and starts to build up from the pit of depression toward the heights of new prosperity, is using that idle money to hire idle men.
Both dollars and men need work. There are still nearly 10,000,000 unemployed men and women in this country. As for unemployed dollars, an economist of the Federal Reserve Board says that the $5,500,000,000 excess reserves now in the banks would provide legal basis for a credit expansion of more than $100,000,000,000—one hundred billion dollars!

No sane person wants any such deluge of bank loans as that. It would make a runaway boom ending in disaster. But the country needs, and needs quickly if our capitalist system is to survive, ten or twenty of those potential billions of dollars to join the ten million idle people in productive work.
NEW RAILROAD CARS
One of the most cheerful bits of business news recently has been a $30,000,000 rolling stock program by the Pennsylvania Railroad. There will be 10,000 new cars and 1,000 remodeled ones.
At last the railroads are buying. Here is what business experts have been saying for years would be a sure sign of recovery. Many roads are going to replace old rolling stock. And rail orders are coming to the steel mills. "Heavy goods," so long stalled, are moving.
It means the railroads now have enough more business so that they feel safe in buying. Their purchases, in turn, make more business for them and for other industries.
Only one other big industry still lags. That is building. Next year should see a revival there.

WASHINGTON'S RADICALISM

Speaking of constitutional revisions and amendments—
"My wish is," wrote George Washington to James Madison, "that the convention may adopt no temporizing expedients, but probe the defects of the Constitution to the bottom, and provide a radical cure, whether they are agreed or not."
But don't get excited. The radical Father of his Country was speaking of the Articles of Confederation which preceded the present Constitution.
The Brookings Institution after three years' effort, doesn't seem quite sure yet "why there is want in the midst of plenty." We'd suggest it's because people in the mass, including ourselves, are just naturally dumb.

COMMUNITY FUNDS

Four hundred cities have already begun their annual Community Chest campaigns, and others will be following soon. Community funds are allied with relief problems, though they are not used, in most cases, for direct relief. The agencies working under community funds in most cities are concerned with human restoration rather than meeting specific wants such as hunger. Gerard Swope, chairman of the National Mobilization for Human Needs, recognized this distinction in a radio speech.
"We may truthfully be said to be convalescing from the depression," he said. "Every one is eager to relax in the sunshine of good times and to forget the gloom of hard times. It is easy to forget that for many the convalescent stage has not yet been reached, perhaps never will be; to forget that for many of our neighbors the illness has been so severe that the convalescence still requires the ablest sort of treatment and understanding if tragedy is to be prevented."
"We have met successfully, it is fair to say, the first challenge of the depression in that the barest of necessities have been provided for our citizens. The more difficult, more intricate task of physical and spiritual rehabilitation faces us."

TEXAS ECONOMIST DECLARES AAA FARM RESTRICTION FOLLY

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8.—(AP)—A University of Texas economist asserted here today the AAA restriction of agricultural production was "the height of folly in a country and in a world where there are millions on relief and still more millions unemployed."
Speaking before members of the southwest division of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Dr. A. B. Cox, chief of the bureau of business research of the Texas school, said the AAA program taught individuals "to seek economic relief through political means rather than economic methods."
"Through the processing taxes the program raises the cost of living and tends to restrict outlet of farm crops," he said. "It kills initiative and self reliance of individuals affected."
"Alphabetical programs with high sounding names which were created to make work may be good headlines, but the dribbles that trickle down to the vast body of tenant farmers and farm and village laborers have been pitiful indeed."
He declared what farmers of the southwest want is "markets."

WASHINGTON'S RADICALISM

"My wish is," wrote George Washington to James Madison, "that the convention may adopt no temporizing expedients, but probe the defects of the Constitution to the bottom, and provide a radical cure, whether they are agreed or not."

LUXURY FOR HOGS.

A hog's life may no longer be what it used to be, thanks to the AAA and the drouth and one thing and another; nevertheless the hog is going to have his inning at Dallas next year when the big Texas centennial exposition is held.
Plans for the porkers' quarters call for soft lighting to protect their eyes from the glare, music to lull them to sleep at night, automatic feed troughs and a change of bedding every 12 hours. A l s o private baths. And the environment will be artistic enough to appeal to the hog's finer nature—mural paintings, for instance, portraying hogs playing their proud part in the general livestock progress of their state.
It has often been said that pigs would be clean if they had a chance. Maybe they would be esthetic, too. This is a noble experiment which may have far-reaching results. And what if it does make "softies" of the coddled porkers? If we have "milk from contented cows," why not bacon from fastidious hogs? Surely their flesh will be sweeter and more tender.

HOUSE VOTED TO CONSIDER CHARGES AGAINST MCDONALD

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The house voted today to convene Nov. 15 to hear evidence on charges of official misconduct preferred against J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture. The hearing was ordered after a motion to request McDonald to appear before the house for a public reprimand was defeated.
The house voted, 70 to 62, to proceed against McDonald despite opposition by a majority of the committee which investigated his administration that charges be dismissed. The charges were preferred by a committee minority and alleged McDonald violated the anti-nepotism act by employing his brother; improperly accepted two mares as gifts from persons with whom he dealt officially; diverted funds and used his office for private purposes.
The proposal that McDonald be publicly reprimanded was made when majority members of the committee asserted evidence could not be produced to warrant impeachment. It failed, 104 to 30, after bitter criticism.
"The house ought to face the issue squarely and if McDonald is guilty ought to say so and if he is not guilty he should be exonerated," Rep. J. Manley Head of Stephenville said. "I will not be a party to such disgraceful and preposterous procedure."
Rep. Harry Graves of Georgetown said he believed McDonald had erred but that his actions were not impeachable offenses and urged the reprimand.

HOUSE VOTED TO CONSIDER CHARGES AGAINST MCDONALD

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The house voted today to convene Nov. 15 to hear evidence on charges of official misconduct preferred against J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture. The hearing was ordered after a motion to request McDonald to appear before the house for a public reprimand was defeated.
The house voted, 70 to 62, to proceed against McDonald despite opposition by a majority of the committee which investigated his administration that charges be dismissed. The charges were preferred by a committee minority and alleged McDonald violated the anti-nepotism act by employing his brother; improperly accepted two mares as gifts from persons with whom he dealt officially; diverted funds and used his office for private purposes.
The proposal that McDonald be publicly reprimanded was made when majority members of the committee asserted evidence could not be produced to warrant impeachment. It failed, 104 to 30, after bitter criticism.
"The house ought to face the issue squarely and if McDonald is guilty ought to say so and if he is not guilty he should be exonerated," Rep. J. Manley Head of Stephenville said. "I will not be a party to such disgraceful and preposterous procedure."
Rep. Harry Graves of Georgetown said he believed McDonald had erred but that his actions were not impeachable offenses and urged the reprimand.

GOVERNMENT REPORT INDICATES 11,141,000 BALES BE PRODUCED
THIS IS DECLINE OF 323,000 BALES FROM ESTIMATE MADE OCTOBER 1

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—The agriculture department forecast today a 1935 cotton crop of 11,141,000 bales, based upon conditions as of Nov. 1, a reduction of 323,000 bales from the Oct. 1 forecast.
The indicated crop is 1,506,000 bales more than the 1934 production but 3,525,000 less than the average 1928-32 production.
Most of the decline in crop prospects during October was reported in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Missouri, where early frost occurred and other unfavorable weather conditions were said to have checked development of the late crop. Moderate declines were reported for North Carolina, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. Little change was shown for other states.
The department forecast an average yield per acre of 18.1 pounds compared with 17.9 pounds in 1934 and a ten-year average of 17.1 pounds.
The census bureau reported 7,749,835 bales ginned from the 1935 crop prior to November 1, compared with 7,917,671 for 1934 and 10,355,031 for 1933.

Advanced Dollar Bale.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Cotton advanced about a dollar a bale today on the government's crop estimate of 11,141,000 bales as considerable buying was touched off on a bullish construction placed on the report.
The government estimate showed a good sized decline from earlier estimates and was the signal for active buying of all options and prices moved up briskly.
With the exception of the October, 1935, position all months crossed the eleven-cent level. Dec. sold at 11.31, March at 11.20 and May at 11.19.

PARTY LEADERS AND CANDIDATES TURN THEIR ATTENTION TO 1936 PRIMARIES AND CONVENTIONS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—With the 1935 elections out of the way, party leaders and candidates turned their attention today to preparations for preliminaries of the 1936 campaign—the rapidly approaching primaries and conventions.
The first of the 1936 primaries is little more than two months off. This one, in Louisiana, will be the prelude to a long line of state primaries leading to September. Party conventions, to nominate presidential and vice-presidential candidates, are expected to be held in June as usual, and political leaders are already making plans for them. Meetings of the national committees must soon be held to fix the exact dates.
Within the next couple of weeks calls probably will go out from both democratic and republican headquarters for meetings of the national committees in December. Those meetings will be chiefly concerned with organization matters and arrangements for the conventions.
Two sets of primaries will be held during 1936 preliminary to the conventions and the November election. One set, consisting of the usual state nominating primaries held every two years, will run from January to September. The other set, comprising at least 15 state presidential primaries, will run from March almost up to convention time.
The state nominating conventions are held to choose party candidates for state and local offices ranging from governors and senators down. Presidential primaries are designed to guide state delegations at the national conventions in voting for presidential candidates.
After the Louisiana nominating primary, April 8, almost three months later, but the presidential primaries begin March 10, with one in New Hampshire, and several others will be held soon thereafter.

NEW STRUGGLE OVER UTILITY HOLDING CO. BILL IS FORECAST

FEDERAL JUDGE'S DECISION BILL UNCONSTITUTIONAL STIFFENS RESISTANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—(AP)—A new and intense struggle over the utility holding company bill is believed to be an imminent probability, especially in view of a Baltimore federal judge's decision at the whole act is unconstitutional.

Some officials of the securities commission are known to believe that the Baltimore result will stiffen the resistance of the utilities industry, and that most of the holding firms will refuse to register with the commission at the deadline, Dec. 1.

If this should be the case, practically the whole vast industry would be arrayed in determined resistance against the act which grew out of the Roosevelt administration's attempt to "simplify" the holding company setup, to eliminate holding firms deemed "unnecessary" and to regulate the remainder.

Unless the securities commission could win the court fight, its attempt to enforce the act would be halted at the very start.

The registration procedure calls for the filing of detailed information about the concern's financial and operating structure.

These data are to be used by the commission in deciding which companies should be eliminated, a question which, in general, hinges on whether a concern holds sway over a territory considered too wide.

GASOLINE PLANT IS CONSTRUCTED NEAR TRINIDAD

Construction of a gasoline absorption plant near Trinidad by the Lago Star Gas company is furnishing employment for about a hundred skilled workmen from Corsicana, Athens and intermediate points, according to information received from company officials.

The new plant occupies a 20-acre site, and is modern in every respect, capable of handling 100,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Normal working pressure will be about 325 pounds but the plant can function under a maximum of 400 pounds per square inch. It is claimed that the company's eight principal plants in the treatment section of the plant, the gas from the field is churned with a special type oil which removes all condensable gases, which are principally gasoline, and the gas turned back to the field. This improves the fuel value of the gas. The oil is distilled from condensed gases and reused.

The plant is expected to be completed and in operation by January 1, with John Kinde as superintendent. A full staff of engineers and plant operators is assisting in the construction work.

MALAKOFF DEFEATS TRINIDAD THROUGH THEIR AIR ATTACK

MALAKOFF, Nov. 9.—(Sp.)—Finding their position vulnerable in past defense Malakoff high school took to the air and defeated Trinidad 13-0 here Friday afternoon. Trinidad's forward wall outplayed Malakoff's line from early in the game.

Malakoff's defense was baffled by the visitors with their ability to fill the air with leather. The first score was in the first quarter when Rogers heaved the ball to Ady and the latter stepped down the field and across the goal line. Ady kicked the point.

In the second quarter Rogers tossed one to Wilson for another touchdown, but Ady missed the point. Neither team scored during the remainder of the game although Malakoff had another touchdown called back in the second half.

FUTURE REGULATION INDUSTRY BEING STUDIED BY LAWYERS OF NRA FROM TREATY STANDPOINT

By NATHAN ROBERTSON (Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The possibility of using the federal government's treaty making power as the basis for future regulation of industry is being studied by a group of NRA lawyers.

They have been directed to explore every possible constitutional authority upon which new NRA legislation might be based if the government should decide to experiment with something of that kind.

Canvassing the situation, the lawyers have become interested in the various conventions or treaties granted the federal government by the constitution. That document provides that treaties shall be "the supreme law of the land," anything in the constitution or laws of any state to the contrary notwithstanding.

Following through with that idea, the lawyers also are studying the conventions or treaties originating with the international labor organization at Geneva, to which the United States belongs. Although most of these conventions were negotiated before the United States joined in 1934, and have not been ratified by this government, they deal with such subjects as hours of labor, minimum wages, and other conditions of employment.

What lawyers are studying is whether, if the United States ratifies a convention, or a treaty with a single nation governing working hours in industry or some other condition of employment, the treaty would be the "supreme law of the land."

Other constitutional provisions being exhaustively studied by the NRA lawyers involve the federal government's regulation of interstate commerce, taxes and appropriations, post offices, government contracts, tariff rates, and war emergencies.

YOUNG GOP'S ARE SEEKING WAY FOR UNIFICATION MOVE

DES MOINES, Nov. 9.—(AP)—George Olmsted, national chairman, charged leaders of the Young Republican organization, gathered for a national conference today with the responsibility of finding an "American way" on which young Americans could unite.

"This is new way, the American way," he said, "should avoid the bureaucratic or political tyranny of the New Deal on the left and the economic tyranny of the old order on the right."

Disclaiming any intention to write a Republican platform, Olmsted in a keynote address prepared for delivery at the opening session of a three-day meeting, laid out the Young Republican viewpoint of the "American way."

Sharing the spotlight with Olmsted was Senator Morris Sheppard (R-Ia.) gray-haired foe of the New Deal.

Young Republican headquarters said 200 delegates from 30 states were registered for the convention.

Olmsted recalled that the "senior national committee has not endorsed this meeting. It is right about the other hand there is no reason for hostility on our part towards the national committee."

The Young Republican chairman said that the national committee of J. Kenneth Bradley of Connecticut, to direct a Young Republican division of the national committee of the Young Republican organization, is a "very close relationship between the two groups. It had been reported previously that the appointment caused friction because Young Republican leaders felt they should have been consulted."

AID IS EXTENDED TO DURABLE GOODS INDUSTRY BY BANK

EXPORT-IMPORT UNIT IS ATTEMPTING TO SPEED RECOVERY BY LOANS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Another government effort to speed up the durable goods industry was disclosed today when officials made known that the export-import bank is concentrating on the task of facilitating exports of such goods.

The bank was set up as an attempt to improve foreign trade. Wayne C. Taylor, its vice-president, said in an interview that the bank's "real field" is in intermediate-length credits which cannot be handled by commercial banks and "which shouldn't be handled by the public flotation of securities."

He reported that the bank within the last month had approved five such credit applications of from $25,000 to $400,000 each, covering exports of heavy machinery and other durable goods.

Taylor said large short-term loans have been made and other consumers' goods form a special field in which the bank cannot expect to do a great business, but that it may be possible to do one or two large operations of this type.

A third very big field of activity, which is helpful to the consumers' goods exporters, is lending against blocked foreign exchange," he asserted.

Taylor said the bank's actual advances to date total approximately 10,000,000, and that repayments have been around $8,000,000. He said it has $30,000,000 of outstanding commitments and approximately $35,000,000 of additional "active projects" now on its books.

Official and Ten Others Drowned In Recent Hurricane

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 8.—(AP)—Reports reaching this capital of the Bahamas today said Commissioner John Eldridge Russell and ten other persons were drowned on Great Abaco when hurricane winds swept the island Sunday.

Several vessels of the Sponge fishing fleet were destroyed, it was reported, while three others were badly damaged.

Other property damage was said to have been small.

The hurricane was the same that lashed Miami Monday, causing five deaths in the Miami area and doing property damage at $2,000,000.

It passed over Great Abaco just after changing its course from south to west or west-southwest.

The storm, most of its fury blown out in the Gulf of Mexico, was reported by the weather bureau today off the Florida west coast in the vicinity of Cedar keys.

A number of other projects are still pending in various parts of the country.

CONSUMERS DIVISION OF NRA INTIMATES GASOLINE UNCERTAIN

DECLARED BUYER OF HIGH TEST FUEL IS MERELY WASTING HIS MONEY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The NRA consumers division reported today that gasoline sold under a trade name was actually a mixture of different grades, tailoring uncertainty—and furthermore that the ordinary motorist who buys high octane (high test) fuel wastes his money.

Both remarks were made in the division's second issue of a new bulletin titled "The Consumer."

Gasoline sold by so-called major companies, the bulletin said, "has a fair amount of uniformity, but the practice of swapping and exchanging which occurs in the quick adjustment of local market and the miscellaneous activities of the independent, give each gallon of gasoline sold under a trade name a tantalizing uncertainty."

After sketching the history of gasoline, the report said: "The tendency to push sales as far as possible to the higher octane gasoline because of their higher price."

"The consumer is informed that nothing is too good for his car and that if he wishes to treat it well, he should use it the highest octane gasoline."

"The effect of this action is simply to waste his money. Since the ordinary automobile engine is constructed for a medium or low octane gasoline, it is unresponsive to the higher octane, for which the consumer pays a differential."

"Of outstanding importance in the market is the trade name, x x x though crude petroleum varies greatly from field to field, gasoline, when it comes from the refinery, is fairly uniform in quality."

"However, in the attempt to save transportation costs there is a rather general swapping of gasoline by the major companies behind the scenes, and the trade name under which gasoline is marketed gives an apparent uniformity to a very real chaos of source."

"Moreover, since the major companies normally supply about 80 per cent of their needs, they are dependent upon the various assortments of gasoline sold by the independents for the remainder of their supply. This is mixed with their own gasoline, branded and sold under their trade name."

"The consumer should be wary of paying any significant differential in price, because the pump has a familiar trade mark blazoned conspicuously on it."

"Nor is this confusion confined solely to the branded gasoline market. The independent dealer may purchase branded gasoline from the Standard Oil of New Jersey and sell it as unbranded gasoline. If he does this, the custom of the market allows him to sell an unbranded supposedly independent gasoline one-half cent to five cents below the retail price."

"Again, the independent dealer can purchase an unbranded gasoline, name it 'Oshkosh Premium' and build up a local consumer acceptance for his commodity. This he will sell at the regular branded price."

"Thus a Babylonian complexity underlies the market structure of gasoline. The expert cracking plant of the major company does produce a gasoline with a slightly higher octane content than the straight run gasoline coming from the independent refinery."

In a vague way this has been reflected in the market where branded gasoline sells for a price higher than the unbranded."

WPA Projects Will Give Work to Many

Several Navarro county WPA projects were slightly nearer inauguration Saturday after the appointment of supervisors and within a few days several hundred men will be started to work in various parts of the county according to Ray Morgan, director of the re-employment office which supplies the workmen for the projects.

Tentative advice was received Saturday on the approval and starting of the Cryer Creek-Drane lateral road, which will use more than 40 men, and calls for total expenditures in excess of $5,000.

At the same time, a project for the improvement of the Rebecka road was reported to have received telegraphic approval but no further information has been received. The supervisors named included: District 8—Stover Baker of Kerens; District 10—E. F. Brooks of Corsicana; District 11—E. C. Costlow of Corsicana; and District 4—William E. Smith of Corsicana.

About 180 men will be employed on the projects with starting dates scheduled for next week, although local officials stated that the men could not be secured by the original dates set.

A number of other projects are still pending in various parts of the country.

New Jersey State Trooper Slain By Shotgun Fire

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 9.—(AP)—State Trooper Warren G. Yenser was killed today by shotgun fire from a fleeing automobile on the state highway near Avenel.

Yenser and Trooper John Matey were on night patrol when a coupe with Pennsylvania license plates roared by. They gave chase, overhauling the car in Avenel.

Then without warning a single blast came from the shotgun. Yenser fired several shots at the car. The driver's car later was found abandoned in the Elizabeth section of this city. The rear window of the machine was broken and there was blood on the cushions which indicated that some of Matey's bullets had found their mark.

Police announced later that Edward Witowski former Newark resident who escaped from a North Carolina prison farm three months ago, was being on an open charge without bail in the investigation of the slaying.

FEEL FINE Mothers read this:

A CONSTIPATED child is so easily straightened out, it's a pity more mothers don't know the remedy.

A liquid laxative is the answer. Mothers, the answer to all your worries over constipation is a liquid that can be measured. The dose can be exactly suited to any age or need. Just reduce the dose each time, until the bowels are moving of their own accord and need no help.

This treatment will succeed with any child and with any adult. Doctors use liquid laxatives. Hospitals use the liquid form. If it is best for their use, it is best for home use. And today, there are fully a million families that will have no other kind in the house.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a doctor's prescription, low so widely known that you can get it all ready for use at any drugstore.

ALLRED RECEIVES FIRST MAJOR BILL FROM LEGISLATURE

LIQUOR MEASURE IS NOT AT TOP LIST; PENSION BILL WITHOUT REVENUES

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Governor Allred received today the first major enactment of the second special session of the legislature, an old age pension administrative bill that would be impotent without new taxes to pay the cost.

With the first "must" issue cleared, liquor regulation advanced to conference and the legislature believed a threatened legislative jam at the session end was minimized. The session will end Thursday. Both houses adjourned over the week end.

Senators put on a burst of speed to advance the program. The pension bill, previously adopted by the house, was adopted 19 to 6 with two yeas and one nays, however, was two votes shy of the needed number to make it effective on the governor's approval. It cannot become operative until 90 days after adjournment.

Another major problem, that of raising revenue to pay pensions and reduce the state's general fund deficit, had little headway in the senate.

More Amendments Up

Two days of work had not disposed of all committee amendments which reached the legislature amount of probable revenue from the house omnibus tax bill. The pending question was a tax on production of gas.

One bloc wanted a flat rate of one-eighth of one cent per 1,000 cubic feet, with certain exemptions. An opposing group demanded a levy of 1/2 per cent of the value at the well, an increase of 1/2 per cent.

Behind the fight on the bill proper lay the issues of sales taxes and natural resource severance levies. Selective and general sales tax amendments were prepared, and was one to hike the levies on oil, gas and sulphur production.

Under the pension bill, a board of three members appointed by the governor would administer old age assistance of a maximum of $15 monthly from the state. Authorities believed the federal government could pay a maximum additional of $7.50.

The pension administrator could trim payments to provide only reasonable subsistence in accordance with adjusted standards of living and to supplement the income of pensioners to $360 a year.

Liquor Legislation Advanced Last Night

AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Liquor legislation moved toward final enactment today after hours of night session and forced a control bill into conference with a majority of its conferees pledged to permit sales of liquor in unbroken packages only.

The branches were in accord on the chief issue—prohibition of sale by the drink up details of house and senate bills were worked out. Militant drys held colleagues behind locked doors and waited for three hours while sergeant-at-arms searched the halls for members to break a quorum, broken when several wets bolted from the hall. Obtaining a quorum they swept aside wet moves to instruct in favor of wet liquor, and the drink and ordered the bill to conference.

Rep. W. E. Jones of Jourdanton and others administered stinging rebukes to members who purposefully left the floor so a conclusive vote could not be taken, Jones suggesting that if necessary exclusion proceedings be started.

"It is a downright shame and a crying disgrace," he said, "when members will deliberately break a quorum. The rules provide for exclusion of any member who purposefully absent themselves and if the necessity arises I will make the motion."

Headed by Ernest Boyett, sergeant-at-arms, officers started a systematic search of favorite legislative haunts, backed by orders from Speaker Coke Stevenson to use force and break down the doors if necessary. Boyett deputized several aides and asked the Austin police to notify its officers by radio to arrest house members on sight but the request was declined.

An assistant located two members in a small hotel in the rear of the capitol. He picked the latch on the screen door and forced them to return to the capitol.

Lock Solves In Hotel

Boyet found two more in a downtown hotel room. They refused to open the door and insisted that they were not in the room. The hotel engineer was called but was unable to dislodge the key. Boyett finally forced his way in through an adjoining room, but by that time the quorum had been obtained and the house had completed its session.

The trouble started when Rep. George Moffett, of Chillicothe, moved to reject a senate substitute for the house bill and asked appointment of a conference committee. Under the rules package sales proponents were entitled to a majority vote.

Rep. R. Emmett Morse of Houston, wet leader, sought postponement until Monday and failing moved to instruct the committee to provide for the drink if authorized by local option elections.

Dry Force Action

A test showed absence of a quorum and the drys, they had the edge and wanting to force a final vote, ordered a call to obtain sufficient members to transact business. A rush for the doors started and several drys, the officers herded enough back to make a quorum, automatically lifting the call.

Another dash was made for the exits, partially blocked by sergeants-at-arms, and a quorum again was broken.

Wets held two slim hopes of obtaining sale by the drink. One was the remote possibility the committee would incorporate a compromise by standing firm and refusing to give a conference bill enough votes to make it effective immediately, thereby cut-

NORMAN MORRISON, WELL KNOWN OIL OPERATOR, DEAD

Norman Morrison, age 51 years, died at 7 o'clock Saturday morning at the Medical Arts hospital in Dallas after weeks' illness with pneumonia. Funeral services will be held from the chapel of the Brewer-Loudermilk Funeral Home, 3603 Ross avenue, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery, Dallas.

Mr. Morrison had been a resident of Corsicana for the past 12 years and has been in the oil business. He was connected with the Island Oil Company. Much of his time was spent in Tyler during the past few years.

He was a native of Alabama. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nellie E. Morrison; a daughter, Mary Louise Morrison, Corsicana; a brother, Roderick Morrison, Birmingham, Alabama; a sister, Mrs. Mamie Anchor, Bessemer, Alabama, and other relatives.

In summing up the characteristics of Mr. Morrison a friend closely identified with him said the following tribute:

Norman Morrison was probably the best loved man in the oil business in Texas. The oil men not only loved him, but held him in the highest esteem. He was so intensely honorable that no one ever questioned his word in any transaction no matter how large the fortune involved. He was quiet and unassuming in all his contacts with people. He gave himself fully to humanity, and asked nothing in return, save silence on the part of the person receiving his bounty. He made no gifts for newspaper publicity, but gave up his money to those who were sincere and frequent hotel lobbies in oil towns.

VICE PRESIDENT GARNER AND PARTY ARRIVED IN MANILA

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 8.—(AP)—Vice President John N. Garner and party of 42 congressmen arrived in Manila today to attend inauguration of the Philippine commonwealth Nov. 14.

The city took on a holiday air for their reception. Thousands jammed the sidewalks as the Vice President Grant, bearing the congressional party, moved slowly through flower-decked welcoming launchees to its berth.

"I foresee a happy and prosperous future for the Philippines," said Joseph Byrns, speaker of the American house of representatives, at an interview on shipboard.

Garner refused to take a definite statement concerning his opinion of the Philippine independence when he signed the independence bill.

The party included 17 senators and 25 representatives, as well as a number of congressmen who were invited, like the congressmen, to attend the inauguration of the new commonwealth government. Garner and Secretary of War George Dern, designated as President Roosevelt's official representative at the approaching ceremonies, went to Malacanang palace, where they will stay.

Other members of the party went to the government-owned Manila hotel.

Allred Approves Bill. AUSTIN, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Governor Allred today approved a bill authorizing condemnation of certain private lands for restoration or marking of historic spots.

The commission of control for the Texas Centennial celebrations was held at the capitol, which Gov. Walter Woodruff, chairman, said likely would be exercised only in a few instances.

INGENIOUS RUSES.

IF YOU ARE POOR If you can't afford some of the luxuries of the beauty business, Miss Forbes will always tell of a substitute for a lot less cost.

From time to time readers write me their special methods of getting around the high price of beauty aids. Some of these are very ingenious—like that of the woman who could not afford a face puffer in the days when these were very expensive. You know what they are—flat discs of rubber on a wire handle, which is of course very flexible.

My reader took one of a pair of shoe trees, one of those with a flat steel band as a spring and a wood ball handle and shaped wooden part to fit into the shoe. This part she wadded with some cotton, holding it on by wrapping a rubber band around it once or twice, each direction. Then she moistened this with either a skin tonic or ice cold water and slapped away at her face with it. It made a perfectly adequate face puffer, very stimulating to the skin in its sharp action, and the icy water was as good as any astringent. There is the woman who likes massage but cannot afford it. She got herself an electric vibrator, and daily she attaches it to the lamp socket at her bedside, turns it on, and uses either the hard disc or the rubber cup, over her shoulders, and abdomen, lying down for this; then, when she sits up, she does the back of the neck and down the shoulders in back as far as she can reach. She also does her feet and ankles, with great improvement in their circulation, she claims, and hence fewer colds and chills during the winter. The massage action, of course, is merely to stimulate the circulation of the blood, but that is valuable. Of course, the vibrator is used for face and scalp massage as well.

Another woman who cannot afford Turkish or cabinet baths follows my suggestion of a hot bath, with bran bags in the water, followed by a nap rolled up in blankets with hot-water bottles, to perspire away fat and rheumatic acids.

Mrs. H.—The following exercise will help you break up the stiffness in your knees. Stand with both feet turned slightly outward, and one foot a little to the front of the other one. Rise on the balls of the feet; then slowly flex the knees deeply; rise again, and lower the heels. Do this ten times every day, and when you are able to do more with your knees, try lying on your stomach, bending your knees so your heels touch your shoulder blades. This will stretch the ligaments, also make the knee joints supple, but the fullness of this exercise cannot be realized immediately.

JOHNSON DELIVERS ADDRESS TO WORTHAM CIVIC CLUB MEETING

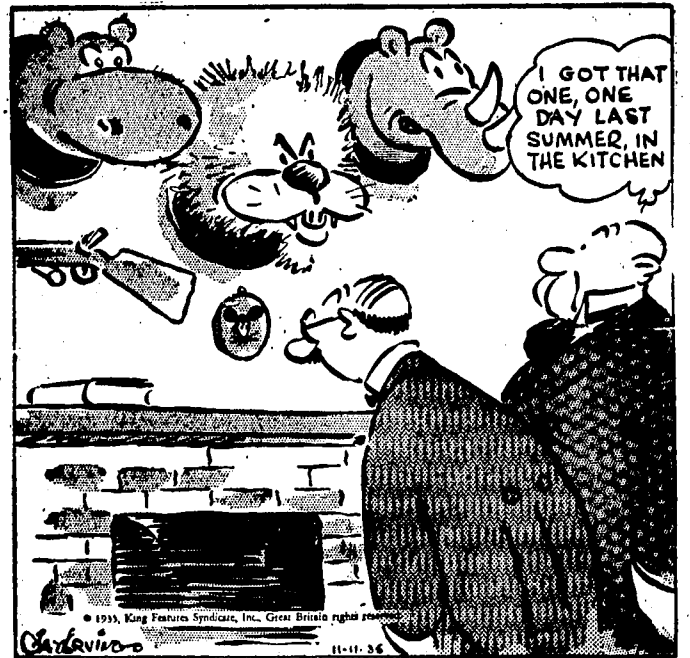

WORTHAM, Nov. 9.—(Sp.)—Congressman Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana was the guest speaker at the Wortham Business Men's Civic Club Thursday evening. This is the annual visit and courtesy that Mr. Johnson pays the Wortham club on his return to Corsicana after adjournment of congress, the visit this year being delayed for several causes, mostly that congress almost "summered" in Washington.

Mr. Johnson's subject, while giving information of interest along the "high spots" of the session, embraced a large part in reminiscences of former days in Wortham, and greetings to his Wortham friends.

Mr. Johnson as usual held the marked attention of his audience which was probably not so large as usual, due to bad weather and illness. Some 100 were present for the banquet which was elaborately served in the Cole & Co. Chevrolet warehouse by the women of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mrs. George Stubbs was most attractive in her introductory remarks in presenting the distinguished speaker at this time. President M. C. Strange presented Mrs. Stubbs.

We Believe In Corsicana And Navarro County

IN PRESENTING THIS PROGRAM OF "FIRMS WHO BELIEVE IN CORSICANA AND NAVARRO COUNTY," THE CORSICANA DAILY SUN AND THE CORSICANA SEMI-WEEKLY LIGHT ALSO GIVES TO ITS READERS, THE THIRD OF A SERIES OF ARTICLES IN WHICH IT IS PROPOSED TO DEAL WITH THE INDUSTRIAL, EDUCATIONAL, AGRICULTURAL, AND OTHER ADVANTAGES THAT ARE TO BE FOUND HERE.

CORSICANA'S ECONOMIC STATUS UNUSUALLY FAVORABLE

The economic status of Corsicana is unusually favorable. Returning vacationists from the east, central and other states, comment on the situation here. Conditions elsewhere are improving, but where they are improving elsewhere, they have already improved here, and stand substantially ahead.

As a matter of fact Corsicana's situation, even though cause for worry during the worst of the depression, ranked away ahead of numerous other cities, there was more business. Employment was greater in ratio to population. Relief demands were never so acute here as elsewhere.

All this is mighty encouraging. Now improvements, construction and repairs and expansions little by little is taking up unemployment slack. Prospects are bright. The city's future never was more promising.

An old adage says that the early bird gets the worm. Business and professional firms who go after it are finding new business every day. On this page are firms who believe in going after this business, and getting it.

The advertisers on this page are looking forward, prepared to serve their patrons better. There's no inactivity with them. They are boosters of Corsicana and Navarro county and you'll find them ready to answer your needs.

THIS PAGE WILL RUN ONCE EACH WEEK FOR A PERIOD OF THIRTEEN WEEKS CARRYING SPECIAL ARTICLES ON THE GROWTH, PROGRESS AND DEVELOPMENT OF CORSICANA AND NAVARRO COUNTY.
